"All Quiet" Plays At D. C. Theatre

"All Quiet On The Western Front," Universal's truthful and graphic screen presentation of Erich Maria Remarque's famous war novel, which is now playing at the Daly City theatre, in its new uncensored version is a drama of deep human emotions and a timely indictment of modern war.

Now that the truth can be told, scenes removed from this picture before its original release have been restored in full, to tell even more starkly the dross and bitterness of the last war and the present war.

These scenes, as well as new scenes which bring the panorama of war up to date, intensify the drama of Remarque's famous war book and aid in telling more sharply the immortal story of "Paul Baumer," a youth of 18 whose mind, body and soul are subjected to the burning white heat of modern warfare.

Lew Ayres gives a performance that has seldom been surpassed in the role of the youth transformed from a schoolboy in a German village to a soldier boy in the trenches.

Slim Summerville, the late Louis Wolheim and many other players give unforgettable portrayals in the film.
